

A PERSONAL NOTE: The second part of GUIDE FOR COLLECTORS appears in this issue...I am delaying the mailing of HA until after the 16th so I can share the results of our first committee meeting for the convention on October 7th. The results are on the last page... Some collectors have written to me saying they get no response to their requests. Unfortunately this is true in many cases. Last month I asked for answers to 4 questions so I could share the results with my readers and got less than 10 responses. Here they are again. Try to respond.

1. Do you actively trade cassettes?
2. If you buy shows, which dealers have you found to be reputable?
3. Do you actively trade video-tape cassettes?
4. What brand of reel-to-reel tape do you use?

I must get at least 40 responses to give you any kind of meaningful results.

RADIO IS ALIVE AND WELL: A movement is being made to revitalize Broadcast Pioneers under its new president Edwin Pfeiffer of WPRI-TV Providence. The organization, formed in 1942 under the leadership of H V Kaltenborn has not been very active the last 2 years. Membership is now 800 and they hope to double it, especially with younger people who don't think of themselves as "pioneers" but who nevertheless are pioneering in the sense of being part of new developments. One of the Pioneers' main services is to assist needy people who have been identified with broadcasting in the past and spouses of these people. It is only helping about 12 people now. Chief fund-raiser for the foundation in the past has been the annual Mike Award dinner honoring distinguished stations. The dinner, after a 2-year lapse, will be revived in 1979. Among other ongoing Pioneers' activities are the Broadcast Pioneers Library in Washington DC; Broadcasters Hall of Fame Awards presented posthumously to persons who have made significant contributions to broadcasting; an association with the University of Georgia under which the Pioneers serves as host at the annual Peabody Awards luncheons. The next Peabody luncheon is May 3rd at the Hotel Pierre in New York.

FROM BRUCE RUGGLES, Box 1256, North Bay, Ontario, Canada P1B 8k5. Bruce is going to sell much of his collection. It would be sold by reel--take what you get. This would be excellent for beginners. Before he decides on a price, Bruce wants to know what interest there is. Write Bruce if interested. Many shows are relatively uncirculated... Bruce is also looking for the last the chapters of the ADVENTURES BY MORSE series. There were 52 programs in the entire series and Bruce needs #50-52.

Information on the convention follows. Send in answers to the 4 questions. Write if you get work and Hang by your thumbs.

CONVENTION DETAILS

PLACE: Bridgeport Holiday Inn...Exit 27 of Conn Tpk (I-95). About 65 minutes from Kennedy and Laguardia Airports and George Washington Bridge. Just a few minutes from railroad station in Bridgeport.

DATE AND TIME: Sat, October 7th, 9 AM to about 10:30 at night.

COST: $15.00 per person. Children under 16 will be $12.50. Checks should be made out to Jay Hickerson and mailed to BoxC address.

We are contacting guests now and will let you know who is coming and give you updated information in both Hello Again and Collectors Corner. Activities will include display and dealer tables, movies, a teaching workshop run by Gary Yoggy, an acting workshop suggested by Bob Vito where participants can act out a radio script, a reading by Raymond Edward Johnson, a panel discussion, dinner, one or two radio shows performed by our special guests, and awards.

Display or dealer tables are free. Let me know how many you want. We have room for about 25. If some of you have an idea for a workshop or activity, let me know. Also let me know if you would be willing to help at the registration table or in other capacities. The organizational committee consists of Julie and Larry DeSalvatore, Jay Hickerson, Joe Webb, Stu Weiss, Carol and Bob Witte.

You can begin sending your checks in now. Tell your friends and start publicizing this. I hope all the publications I trade with will publicize the convention as much as possible. Let's make this the biggest and best one yet.

When I started dubbing in 1970, I knew just about nothing about the techniques of trading including dubbing, listing programs, rating shows, mailing, etc. I've picked up many hints from many of you and have developed some of my own. If you have any more, let me know. Speed and efficiency as well as good quality are essential in this hobby.

LISTENING AND LISTING: I at least spot check all programs before listing them. Ideally you should hear the whole show. As I listen to them I record the essential information in a notebook arranged alphabetically by first letter. I note the reading on the tape counter at beginning and ends of programs and put the numbers on the cards in the tape box. I number the boxes and cards and record this, noting who sent each box for future reference.

People list their programs different ways. Some do it by reel and some alphabetically like myself. Some do it by type of program. Some lists are extremely detailed such as the ones made by Steve Moreno and Howard Brenner. Others are fairly detailed like mine. Others give just the program. On my listing I note number of program, title, description (including guests, date, etc.), sponsor, network, length of time of show (22 minute-programs are listed as 25 minutes; 28 minute-programs are listed 30, etc.), reel number, and problems if any. Some problems in listing descriptions is that some programs have no titles and the trader makes his own description. Because this can vary for the same program, duplications arise.

Some difficult programs to describe are OUR MISS BROOKS, GANGBUSTERS, FIBBER MCGEE AND MOLLY, GUNSMOKE, soap operas. Because most programs fall short of 30 minutes, especially if commercials are deleted, it is often wise to include more programs than you want (7 hours for a 6-hour order). In this way some 15 minute programs can be used as fillers. Many traders try to fill up the tape. On band remotes and quiz shows, etc. I list the first song, joke, contestant, etc. to help identify the show. I also separate programs about radio (LP's, TV, tributes, etc.) from my regular list. I note in my listing if a program is from a commercial disc. Also if it is taped directly from a transcription I note it. This is difficult to know unless the listing you are ordering from makes some note of this. Some traders note the person who sent the tape and if it has gone through few generations.

DUBBING AND MAKING OUT CARDS: Dubbing all the programs on a reel saves time and many traders just trade that way. Save 15 minute programs as fillers. Put essential information on the card. I use large file cards and put the number, time, and important information. I keep the sender's request list so I can cross check so duplication won't arise. Date the sender's request list when you mail the tape.

I also cross out the program on the want list and note fillers sent. Also I check the program sent on my own list to get an idea of these programs that are requested more than others. Using patch-cords from preamp outputs to inputs and keeping an eye on the volume and tone control if you have one on the dubbing machine are essential. A machine with a third playback head is ideal for listening to the shows you are dubbing. I have often noted bad tape this way. Some traders put all programs on their own master tape and then dub them off. Also it might help to stamp your name on the card you put in the box so in case box and card get separated, you know to whom it belongs.

Please send in comments on this article. Part 3 next month.

1. We now have approximately 300 loyal subscribers; our renewal rate for first-year subscribers is running 80%! Many are renewing for 2 and 3 years — thus showing confidence in and support for NRT.
2. We're losing fist-fulls of money!
3. We're determined to hang in there and emerge as the national OTR publication that's operated on a sound, on-going basis; to put an end to this "now you see us, now you don't" game that has plagued our hobby for so long!
4. We need to quickly build our subscription list to 500. Then, we'll set a new price for NRT that allows us to break even at 500 subscribers. Above that we profit; below that we lose. The price will be between $6.00 and $6.50 per year.
5. We're making this limited time offer to new subscribers only:
 - A. Send $5.00 for one year of NRT starting with Winter 1978 issue including a free non-commercial Want Ad in each issue subject to conditions shown below.
 - B. And, if you wish, send $5.00 for all 5 back issues or $1.50 for any single back issue to make your set complete.

We think so. If you do too let us hear from you within the next 30 days.

NOTE: Print one word in each space below, including name and address in copy. Rate per issue: $2.00 for the first 20 words plus 5¢ per word thereafter. Subscriber, non-commercial ads: First 40 words free, then 5¢ per word. Free ads must be submitted with new copy for each issue in which they are to appear. Commercial rate per issue: $3.00 for first 20 words plus 10¢ per word thereafter. Payment must accompany copy. No abbreviations. Display rates by quote.

I have several copies of an excellent book. "THOSE VINTAGE YEARS OF RADIO"
by John Snagge & Michael Barsley

This hard covered book tells about the BBC and its vintage years 1935 to 1953.
John Snagge was one of the BBC's best known announcers. John met Michael Barsley on D-Day 1944, when Snagge made the historic announcement of the Normandy landings. They worked together on many programs. This book is about those years. From King George V's Jubilee to Queen Elizabeth II's Coronation the BBC poured out a rich and varied stream of programmes.
